VIRGINIA	Legal Authority
	GENERAL DUTIES AND ACTIVITIES OF THE CHILD'S LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE
1. General Duties: Timely appointment, mandatory or discretionary, attorney or lay person, represent child's interests, undertake basic obligations, address conflict situations, address special needs and disabilities, and accommodate client preferences.	<ul> <li>Appointment of counsel and guardian ad litem.</li> <li>A. Prior to the hearing by the court of any case involving a child who is alleged to be abused or neglected or who is the subject of an entrustment agreement or a petition seeking termination of residual parental rights or who is otherwise before the court pursuant to subdivision A 4 of § 16.1-241 or § 63.2-1230, the court shall appoint a discreet and competent attorney-at-law as guardian ad litem to represent the child pursuant to § 16.1-266.1.</li> <li></li> <li>E. In those cases which in the discretion of the court require counsel or a guardian ad litem to represent the child or children in addition to the representation provided, a discreet and competent attorney-at-law may be appointed by the court as counsel or a guardian ad litem.</li> <li>VA Code § 16.1-266.</li> <li>The role and responsibility of the GAL is to represent, as an attorney, the child's best interests before the court. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Introduction.</li> </ul>
2. Out of Court - Actions to be Taken: Meet with child, undertake an investigation, provide advice and counseling, file pleadings, request services, address special needs, negotiate settlements	<ul> <li>In fulfilling the duties of a Guardian ad litem (GAL), an attorney shall:</li> <li>A. Meet face-to-face and interview the child.</li> <li>COMMENT: The first duty of the GAL is to establish a relationship with the child client, as an attorney would with any client. This interview should be conducted face-to-face at a time and place that allows the GAL to observe the child and ascertain: the child's wishes, the safety and adequacy of the child's current placement, and the need for further testing, evaluation or interim judicial relief.</li> <li>Such interviews are best conducted on a date prior to the first court appearance and at a location other than the courthouse. It is important to meet with the child in a private setting, such as the GAL's office, the child's home, school or placement, away from the litigants so that the child can talk openly.</li> <li>There should be sufficient time between the interview and court appearances for the GAL to fully analyze the</li> </ul> information gleaned, take appropriate actions and formulate meaningful arguments and recommendations.

The content and direction of the interview should take into account the child's age, maturity and potential stress created by the circumstances of the case and prior interviews, especially in cases involving allegations of sexual or other abuse. In such cases, GALs should rely upon videotapes of forensic interviews or attend interviews of the child conducted by trained experts rather than conducting their own independent investigation and interviewing the child about the facts of their alleged victimization.

As appropriate, children should be encouraged to articulate their concerns and views... In juvenile delinquency, child in need of supervision, child in need of services, and status offense cases, the GAL should exercise caution when talking to the child about the circumstances of the offense and advise the child about the limitations on confidentiality that may apply.

Young children present a challenge, but the age and verbal ability of the child do not abrogate the responsibility to meet face-to-face with the child. In meetings with young children, and with children with limited language abilities or those with disabilities, the GAL will rely much more heavily on observation.

Conducting such meetings at the child's home or placement allows the GAL to observe the surroundings and the child's interactions with others, as well as to interview the child's caretaker. If the child expresses wishes that are contrary to the GAL's assessment of the child's interests and welfare, the GAL is obligated to inform the court of these wishes. If appropriate, the GAL should request that an attorney be appointed to serve as counsel for the child. If the child is uncooperative or appears to have been influenced by a parent or custodian, the GAL should inform the court of these circumstances. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard A.

- B. Conduct an independent investigation in order to ascertain the facts of the case.

COMMENT: The GAL shall review any and all relevant records, which may include court, social service, medical, mental health, and school records. The GAL should attach a copy of the Supreme Court of Virginia's Form DC-514, ORDER FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN AD LITEM, to any written request for records since it delineates the statutory authority for access to records.

The GAL shall interview the parties to the dispute and any other persons with relevant knowledge of the child and the facts that gave rise to the allegations. Such other persons would include, for example, the child's parents, current caretaker including foster parents, an assigned Court-Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) worker, social worker, child care provider, clergy, neighbors, relatives, school personnel, and health and mental health providers. When the child is young, there is a greater need to seek independent sources of information and obtain verification of salient facts. Such interviews are best conducted on a date prior to the court appearances and at a location other than the courthouse. GALs should communicate their role and responsibilities clearly to the parents and/or other party's attorneys including the GAL's legal status in the proceeding and responsibility to participate fully to protect the child's interests and express the child's wishes.

If the home environment is at issue, the GAL should visit the child's home and any proposed alternative placement. GALs should independently evaluate all allegations of child abuse or neglect, or of risk to the child's safety or welfare, including but not limited to physical or mental abuse, sexual abuse, lack of supervision, educational neglect, and exposure of the child to domestic violence or substance abuse, regardless of whether such abuse or neglect or risk is identified in the parties' pleadings. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard B.

- C. Advise the child, in terms the child can understand, of the nature of all proceedings, the child's rights, the role and responsibilities of the GAL, the court process and the possible consequences of the legal action.

COMMENT: The GAL shall make every effort to ensure that the child understands, by using language appropriate to the child's age and verbal abilities, the nature of the proceedings, the consequences which may result, the possibility of future modifications, the attorney's responsibilities as a GAL, and how to contact the GAL. If the child has significant emotional problems, the GAL should consult with a mental health specialist or the child's therapist in order to determine the best manner to present this information.

In juvenile delinquency, child in need of supervision, child in need of services, and status offense cases, the GAL should explain how the GAL's role and responsibilities differ from that of the child's defense attorney and advise the child about the limitations on confidentiality that may apply.

The GAL must inform the child that there may be circumstances when confidentiality will apply to communication between the child and GAL, and circumstances when it may not. The GAL may use information received from the child to further the child's best interest. For example, the GAL may learn from the child that a custodian is taking illegal drugs and may use that information to request that the court order drug testing of the custodian.

The GAL should keep the child apprised of any developments in the case and actions of the court or parties involved. The GAL shall maintain meaningful contact with the child throughout the term of the case to monitor the child's welfare and the parties' compliance with court orders. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of

Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard C.

- D. Participate, as appropriate, in pre-trial conferences, mediation and negotiations.

COMMENT: The GAL should be involved, as appropriate, in all pre-trial conferences and negotiations including phone calls, formal or informal conferences and mediation. Additionally, the GAL should take any action necessary to attempt to resolve the case in the least adversarial manner possible; however, a GAL should clarify, when necessary, that he or she is not acting as a mediator.

The GAL's role in such meetings is to represent and advocate for the best interests of the child. A GAL who participates in mediation is bound by the confidentiality rules governing mediation as found in § 8.01-576.10 of the Code of Virginia. As a general rule, the GAL should encourage settlements. In exceptional cases where the GAL reasonably believes that a proposed settlement would be contrary to the welfare of the child, the GAL should first discuss these concerns with the parties and their counsel. If these concerns are not addressed, the GAL should bring the facts that led to the concerns about the settlement to the court's attention by filing a motion to vacate the agreement in accordance with § 8.01-576.12 of the Code of Virginia. Any proposed settlement which is deleterious to the child should be opposed despite the agreement of the other parties. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard D.

- I. Communicate, coordinate and maintain a professional working relationship in so far as possible with all parties without sacrificing independence.

COMMENT: Whenever it is appropriate to the child's needs and consistent with the direction of the court, the GAL should attend all meetings or hearings involving legal, educational and therapeutic issues specifically related to the case. These would include meetings of the Family Assessment and Planning Team, Individualized Education Plan (IEP) meetings, school disciplinary or other educational meetings, and foster care placement and review meetings. The GAL can present the child's perspective, gather information necessary to proper representation, and potentially achieve a negotiated settlement of all or some issues of the case at such meetings.

The GAL should contact any CASA volunteer assigned to the case and coordinate all aspects of the investigation with the CASA volunteer. Such volunteers can offer significant information and assistance to the GAL.

The GAL should contact the attorneys for the other parties to the case as soon as possible and at least seventy-two hours prior to any hearing. Counsel for other parties to the case may have information not included in any of the available records and can provide their respective clients' perspectives. Appropriate communication should be maintained between the GAL and all agencies and professionals involved in the case. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard I.

	- G. Any state or local agency, department, authority or institution and any school, hospital, physician or other health or mental health care provider shall permit a guardian ad litem or counsel for the child appointed pursuant to this section to inspect and copy, without the consent of the child or his parents, any records relating to the child whom the guardian or counsel represents upon presentation by him of a copy of the court order appointing him or a court order specifically allowing him such access. Upon request therefor by the guardian ad litem or counsel for the child made at least 72 hours in advance, a mental health care provider shall make himself available to conduct a review and interpretation of the child's treatment records which are specifically related to the investigation. Such a request may be made in lieu of or in addition to inspection and copying of the records. VA Code § 16.1-266. obligations post-disposition.	COMMENT: In so far as possible, the GAL should assure the meaningful participation of the child in all phases of the proceedings which would include attendance at appropriate court hearings.

	The GAL should consult the child, caretaker, therapist and any other relevant individuals to determine the appropriateness of the child's attendance at a hearing. A decision to exclude the child from a hearing should be based on a particularized determination. In making this determination, the GAL should consider the age, maturity and desires of the child; the purpose of the hearing; the advice of those consulted; and the potential risk of trauma to the child evoked by such attendance.
	In approximation the shild has the night to attend begin as the CAL should argue that the shild is informed of that
	In cases when the child has the right to attend hearings, the GAL should ensure that the child is informed of that right. As appropriate, the child should be provided sufficient information about such hearings to make an informed decision about whether to attend. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard E.

- F. Appear in Court on the dates and times scheduled for hearings prepared to fully and vigorously represent the child's interests.

COMMENT: As in any case, the GAL is expected to act as an advocate for the client child. This demands attendance at all hearings with the intention of presenting a well formulated position based on the facts. This position should be supported by the GAL's independent investigation, and through the development of a theory and strategy for the case. The GAL should prepare, present and cross-examine witnesses, offer exhibits, and provide independent evidence as necessary. Although the child's position may overlap positions of other parties such as the parents, the GAL should be prepared to participate fully in every hearing and not merely defer to or endorse the positions of other parties. The GAL acts as an advocate and uses every attorney skill appropriate to further a result favorable to the child's best interest. The GAL should never engage in ex parte communications with the court or submit written material to the court without promptly delivering a copy to the other parties and their counsel. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard F.

- G. Prepare the child to testify, when necessary and appropriate, in accord with the child's interest and welfare.

COMMENT: The GAL should determine whether to call the child as a witness based on consideration of the child's need or desire to testify, developmental and verbal capabilities of the child and the child's ability to withstand crossexamination. For some children testifying is therapeutic and empowering, while for others it may be very traumatic. The GAL must determine the possible benefits and repercussions of testifying and the necessity of the child's direct testimony. The GAL shall consult a mental health specialist or therapist working with the child, if there is one, to assist in evaluating whether testifying will cause trauma to the child. Consideration should also be given to the availability of other evidence or hearsay exceptions that may substitute for direct testimony.

If the child does not wish to testify or would, in the GAL's opinion, be harmed by being forced to testify, the GAL should seek an agreement of the parties not to call the child as a witness or utilize other remedies such as an order from the court to limit the scope or circumstances of the testimony.

If the child is compelled to testify, the GAL should seek to minimize the adverse consequences by seeking appropriate accommodations as allowed by law, such as testimony taken by closed circuit television in accord with  $\frac{63.2-1521}{5}$  of the Code of Virginia or an "in camera" interview of the child in the judge's chambers. The GAL should prepare the child for "in camera" interviews or testimony by explaining the nature and purpose of the proceeding and the use or disclosure that may be made of the information that the child provides during the proceeding.

In juvenile delinquency, child in need of supervision, child in need of services, and status offense cases, the child's defense attorney will take responsibility for preparing the child to testify when necessary. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard G.

- H. Provide the court sufficient information including specific recommendations for court action based on the findings of the interviews and independent investigation.

COMMENT: The GAL is obligated to assure that all facts relevant to the case, available dispositional remedies and possible court orders are presented to the court. The GAL's arguments to the court should address every appropriate aspect of the litigation including: analysis of any allegations of abuse, neglect or risk; analysis of factors to be considered in a determination related to custody and visitation; placement of the child; services to be made available to the child and family; dispositional alternatives for the child or parents in juvenile delinquency, child in need of supervision, child in need of services, status offense cases and custody and visitation arrangements; and any other orders the GAL deems to be in the child's interest. Recommendations for placements outside the home should take into consideration the availability and appropriateness of placement with relatives or friends, parental visitation and keeping a sibling group together.

The GAL's arguments should contain, but not be limited to, an analysis of and comment on plans presented by other parties such as the Department of Social Services, court services staff, or as a result of mediation.

In certain circumstances, a summary of the GAL's findings with recommendations and the basis for those recommendations may be presented to the court. Such circumstances include the dispositional phase of a case involving both an adjudicatory and dispositional phase or, at the request of the court, in a custody/visitation case. This summary may be written or oral. If written, copies of the summary should be provided to the other parties and their counsel at least five days prior to the hearing unless otherwise directed by the court.

In foster care placement, permanency planning, foster care review proceedings, and mediated agreements, the GAL should be aware of the proposed plans, should consult with the child about the proposal, and explore any alternatives the GAL believes are more appropriate. If the GAL disagrees with such plans, the court should be advised of this disagreement supported by evidence or information gleaned from the GAL's independent investigation. VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard H.

- J. File appropriate petitions, motions, pleadings, briefs, and appeals on behalf of the child and ensure the child is represented by a GAL in any appeal involving the case.

	COMMENT: The GAL should make appropriate motions, including motions in limine and evidentiary objections, to advance the child's best interest in court and during other proceedings. When necessary, the GAL should file briefs in support of legal issues. The GAL should file a show cause against a party who is not following a court order or a motion under § 16.1-278 to compel an agency to provide services if it is not doing so as ordered VA Ct. R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard J.
4. Post-Hearing: Review courts order, communicate order to child, and monitor implementation of orders.	<ul> <li>K. Advise the child, in terms the child can understand, of the court's decision and its consequences for the child and others in the child's life.</li> <li>COMMENT: The GAL should review all orders to ensure they conform to the court's verbal orders and statutorily required findings and notices. The GAL should discuss all such orders and their consequences with the child. The child is entitled to understand what the court has done and what that means to the child. The GAL should explain whether the order may be modified or whether the actions of the parties may affect how the order is carried out. For example, an order may permit an agency to return the child to the parents if certain goals are accomplished. VA Ct.</li> <li>R.: Standards to Govern the Performance of Guardian ad Litem for Children, Standard K.</li> </ul>
5. Appellate Advocacy: Decision to appeal, withdrawal, participation in appeal, conclusion by appeal.	<ul> <li>If the GAL believes the court's determination is contrary to the child's interest or welfare, after considering the wishes of the child, a notice of appeal should be filed and measures taken to assure that the appeal is perfected expeditiously. The GAL should file any appropriate pleadings on behalf of the child, including responses to pleadings of other parties.</li> <li>The GAL should also ensure that the child has representation in any appeal related to the case regardless of who files the appeal. During an appeal process initiated by another party, the GAL for a child may file a brief and participate fully at oral argument.</li> <li>If the GAL feels he or she lacks the necessary experience or expertise to handle an appeal, the GAL should notify the court and seek to be replaced. VA Ct. COMMENT: Standard B.2.
The continuing education requirement of six hours every two years may be successfully fulfilled by attendance at a representing children as a guardian ad litem. The goal is to permit attorneys to participate in interdisciplinary Toprosonting ormation as a guardian au mont, the goal is to permit attorneys to participate in multiscipinally programs with other professions that also focus on serving children and families.

Examples of such programs include: training for Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA); programs on domestic violence; programs on the "Psychiatric Treatment of Minors Act"; mental health programs on the effect of abuse, neglect, parental termination or divorce on a child; presentations on accessing school services or understanding school records and programs on special education; and programs on the availability of community resources, such as social services, financial assistance and youth centers.

Standard C.2

The requirement to "assist" a qualified guardian ad litem in two cases in the juvenile court may be met by the applicant attorney associating with a qualified guardian ad litem who serves as a mentor for those two cases.
